

Emblematic to the Place d'Armes in the heart of Luxembourg City, the Café de Paris developed a modern and daring new concept that blends its sophisticated history with an easygoing and lively new identity. From cozy breakfasts to lively after-works, starring none other than their new resident DJ, Amii Watson, the restaurant offers a refreshing new atmosphere with an enticing new menu to accompany the vibrant and charming venue throughout the day.

Outside, the terrace of the Café de Paris has been expanded and redesigned into a spacious and relaxing lounge – adjoined to the subtly retro and stylishly decorated indoors that exude a cozy Parisian landscape. The menu, which prides itself for its fine selection of local products, ranges from scrumptious breakfasts to authentic à la carte dishes and desserts. To complement the cocktails and wind-down ambience in the evening, the restaurant offers a refined selection of platters and tapas. From the strawberry gazpacho to the dainty and delicious desert platter, everyone's taste buds are sure to get a surprising treat.

To liven things up even more, the well-known Amii Watson, their new resident DJ, will provide the perfect sound for afterwork evenings and special events. The audacious reinvention was developed under the leadership of the new General Manager of the Hotel Le Place d'Armes, Jean-Grégoire d'Amman, and the energetic team of the Café de Paris who reflect this warm and dynamic new identity.
